LINCOLN:

JAMES WILLIAMSON, PRINTER, HIGH STREET.

Preface.

THE Ancient Records of this Diocese have hitherto been practically inaccessible, having been scattered about in at least three different Registries, viz., those at Ely House in London, the Consistory Court in Great St. Mary's Church at Cambridge, and the Palace and Diocesan Registry at Ely. All these documents the Bishop has now caused to be removed to the Palace at Ely, where he has provided and fitted up a large Muniment Room in Bishop Alcock's Tower for their reception; at the same time causing them to be completely arranged, so as to be available for the research which their historical importance deserves. And the present volume is the outcome of this arrangement.

The Bishops of Ely had until recently a temporal jurisdiction second only in importance to that of the Bishops of Durham; and the consequence is that their Muniment Room contains, in addition to the ordinary records of diocesan business, a great mass of ancient documents relating to this temporal jurisdiction, both civil and criminal, such as Assize and Plea Rolls, &c., which for other Dioceses are to be found (if at all) only at the Public Record Office in London.

The Ecclesiastical Records comprise the usual contents of a Diocesan Registry,—the Visitation Books and the Transcripts of Parish Registers for the old diocese being in unusually good preservation. Special attention has been paid to the arrangement of the latter according to parishes, so that they may be available to the Clergy for supplying the parts missing (alas! too often) in the Parochial Registers themselves.

The Episcopal Registers commence in 1337, and a rough calendar of their contents is given in the present volume, as well as a careful abstract of the Marriage Dispensations, the Indulgences (which are especially interesting in this series of Registers), and any other matters likely to be useful for local history. All the Wills occurring in the Registers have been transcribed in extenso.

Room has also been found for a portion of the unusually good series of Marriage Licences existing here; and for a Transcript of the Marriage Register of the Old Chapel at Ely House, Holborn. In short, the volume is intended to comprise an Account of the whole Series of Records,—Ecclesiastical, Civil, and Criminal,—illustrated by Abstracts and Transcripts calling attention to the chief matters of interest occurring throughout them.

In the Appendix an account is given of various Records and MSS. in the Public Record Office, the British Museum, and at Lambeth, relating to the old Diocese of Ely.

I desire to take this opportunity of acknowledging my indebtedness to Mr. WILLIAMSON, the Publisher, for the accurate and painstaking manner in which he has performed his share of the work; but for this, the labour (in any case not inconsiderable) of seeing through the press a volume so full of names and dates would have been very greatly increased.

It need scarcely be added that any praise which the work, as a whole, may deserve, must be given to the Bishop. The blame for any faultiness in its execution is mine alone.

The duties are performed by his curate, who has a yearly stipend of one hundred and fifty pounds and a house. The gross annual value of the said Rectory exceeds five thousand pounds.

A 5 SUBSCRIPTION AND ORDINATION BOOKS.

A volume containing entries of Ordinations and of the Examinations of Candidates for Orders, temp. Eliz.

It begins—"Appositions taken and had before the Right Worshipfull Mr John Parker Arche-deacon of Elye and Thos Ithell Doctor of Lawe the xviii^th^ xix^th^ and xx^th^ dayes of December A^o^ d'ni 1574 of all suche as intended to receyve holye orders of Deacon and Pryesthoode, in Trinitye parishe Churche in Elye.

Further on in the book are similar Examinations for 1560, 1561, 1563, 1568, 1569, 1572–1580.

Also the names and colleges of persons ordained 1561, 1563–1570, 1574–1581, and their subscriptions to the Articles and Book of Common Prayer, serving as a kind of Index to the Examinations.

Taking 1560–1 as a specimen, the number of candidates was 68, of whom 2 were respited to the Bishop and 7 rejected, including a B.A. and Fellow of Queen's College, Cambridge. Several others were respited, but appear afterwards to have been admitted. In the later years the proportion of candidates refused seems, from a cursory examination of the book, to have been much greater.

The "Interrogatoryes ministeryd to all suche as myndethe to Receyve hollye orders" were as follows:—

1. ffyrst what is his name.

1662–1672. Book of Subscriptions of Clergy under Canon 36.

The Oaths of Supremacy and Allegiance, obedience to the Bishop, and Residence, and against Simony, are set out at the beginning of the Book. At the other end are subscriptions 1662–1666 under the Act of Uniformity—to conform to the Liturgy, that it is not lawful on any pretence whatever to take arms against the King, and that the Solemn League and Covenant was an unlawful oath and not binding.

Then follow subscriptions of Candidates for Orders, 1667–1672.

The following loose paper in this book appears to be an abstract of the Ordinations between 1662 and 1664:—

BISHOP FLEETWOOD'S COMMONPLACE BOOKS.

A Volume of Memoranda of Bishop Fleetwood. 1714–1723.

In the first he gives an account of his appointment, commencing "Συν Θεω Novemb. ye 17th 1714. I kissed K. Georges hand for ye Bprick of Ely, being the First Bp. he made.

Nov. ye 25. I was elected: the Conge d'elire passing through all the offices, came to 58^l 12^s 08^d. The Register of the Dean and Chapter of Ely claimed as a Customary Fee, for bringing ye Instrument up, 10^l 15^s 00^d. I gave it to him, because he was said to be a poor and honest man, but I knew it was an Imposition, it being impossible for 10 Guineas to be a Fee, when Guineas were not coined till about 1662. I doubt not but it had been paid by one or two of my Prædecess^rs, but I am sorry I paid it, to confirm a piece of vain Generosity which, with one or two more Silly Examples added to mine, will make a Custome, and ye Chapter-Register will hereafter have the Confidence to claim it as his Due. I could with more satisfaction (to Shew it was not ye money I regarded) have thrown it into the River.

On Dec. ye 19th I did Homage, ye Fees of wch came to 106. 10. 04, and would have been 5^li more, had there been any Groom of the Stole.

For 3 seals, two silver, one manual, one of steel, 10 : 00 : 0 (Altogether £427 6 2).

"The names of such as I offered to ye Ld Chancellour Cowper, to be Justices of ye Peace for the Isle of Ely: ye Commission passed Jan. ye 7th 1714, and cost me £11 00^s 00^d."

A 6 BISHOP FLEETWOOD'S COMMONPLACE BOOKS (contd.)

(After giving the names, the Bishop goes on):—"These eight and ten more ye Ld Chancell^r Harcourt had put into Comission, to serve some purpose, without acquainting ye Bp. with it, contrary to immemorial custome, and turnd 4 of ye old ones out. I left out ye Ten to vindicate ye Bps. Privilege, and to shew some Resentment for ye Ill usage of my Prædecessor, and left ye other 8 in Comission, because ye good of ye Isle required it, as I was told."

. . . . . .

The following List of the old Registers extant in Bishop Fleetwood's time, taken from the same volume, is useful, as showing what are now missing, viz., Heton's Register and the Liber Niger.

Visitationes Generales Clericorum infra Comitat' Cantab' tantum habitæ Annis 1506, 1518–1546, et 1550–1556.

Pinned inside :—" Mem. Tuesday Feb. 24, 1740. Mr. Woodward perused this Book on acct. of the Bp. of London, &c."

On almost the last page is the following :—" Md. to know Mr. Chancellor his pleas^r for order to be takyn for keepyng playes dawnsynges and maye gaymes in churches and churche yeardes upon pretense to advauntage and proffyt the churche by the same."

Archdeacon of Ely's Visitation, 1539.

Contains little besides lists of clergy and churchwardens : and a few notices of wants of repair of churches, &c.

" This volume furnishes us with a report of the condition of the " Archdeaconry three years after the suppression of the smaller " Religious Houses and during the year when the Act of the Six " Articles was passed. Thomas Thirlby was at this time Archdeacon " of Ely, the same who afterwards became successively Bishop of " Westminster, Norwich, and Ely. The book deserves to be " examined with much more care and patience than could be " bestowed upon it in the time at my disposal." [Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.]

Visitation Book of Bishop Thirlby, 1549–1552, and of Bishop Cox, 1561.

Contains the Comperta, and some very curious cases of public penance, &c.

" We have here a minute account of the condition of the Parish " Churches throughout the Diocese and a curious body of evidence " regarding the attitude of the people in this part of England three " years after the death of Queen Mary, which obviously possesses " something more than a merely antiquarian interest. From these " returns it is clear that the enactments for defacing the churches " and even those for enforcing uniformity of ritual had not been " attended to generally nor generally carried into effect. There had " been a widespread reluctance to destroy the Holy Water stoups " in the church porches, and to daub over the walls of the churches

"with whitewash. The frescoes in many instances are reported as "still remaining intact. There was a great deficiency of Anglican "service books; the homilies are so frequently noticed as not to be "found, that it would appear they were held in dislike. In many "churches there was not even a Bible. There are frequent com-"plaints that no Parish Register Book had been provided. In "many Parishes there was no preaching and nothing in its place. "At Stanton St. Michael's there was no pulpit; at Orwell we read "'the Crucifixorium remaineth in statu quo prius'; at St. Botolph's "Church, Cambridge, there was not even a chalice. Such a picture "of the condition of an English Diocese at this period I have not "met with elsewhere, and a much more extended and careful examin-"ation of these Comperta than I could afford to give to them could "hardly fail to repay a competent student." [Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.]

Visitatio Generalis tam Clericorum quam Laicorum, et detectiones inde facta, 1564–5.

"It contains the usual complete lists of clergy, schoolmasters, "churchwardens, and other officials of every Parish, with the "Presentments and Comperta arranged according to the several "Deaneries. The impression left upon me by a rapid comparison "of this Book with the Visitation of 1561, was that the defacement "of the Parish Churches recommended in the earlier volume had "been generally carried out in the interval, but that the moral "condition of the people had by no means improved." [Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.]

Visitatio et Acta Officii, 1565–1566.

Almost at the end is the following examination:—

"The returns are drawn up with unusual elaboration, and the "Report upon the Cathedral Church of Ely supplies a complete "nominal list of the members of the Chapter, including the lay "clerks, bedesmen, scholars (24), choristers, and others connected "with the Church in any way. The Visitation was conducted in a "very searching and systematic manner, and the picture supplied "of the diocese during the closing years of the 16th century leaves "little to be desired." [Hist. MSS. Com. Report.]

"Even in 1607 we find included as regular servants of the House, "1 Barber (tonsor), 1 Cook, 1 Under Cook, and 1 Obsonator, i.e., "the purveyor or house steward." [Hist. MSS. Com. Report.]

Visitation of Churchwardens, 1605 and 1610.

Visitation Book, Wisbich Deanery, 1607.

Visitation Book of William Gager, LL.D., acting as Vicar-General, first of Bishop Heton, during the last few months of his episcopate, and next of Bishop Andrewes during his first year.

At the end is a loose paper list of excommunicated persons to be read in churches, 1610.

"The record begins abruptly on the 9 Jany. 1608–9; the latest "entry belongs to 1610. The Visitation, which was spread over a "period of more than a year, was carried on in St. Mary's Church, "in Cambridge, on successive Mondays from week to week. An "entry of the 17th July 1609 notes that Bishop Heton died at "Mildenhall, and apparently suddenly, in ædibus Magri Jacobi "Weston Ar., a fact which has not I think been mentioned else-

"where. At this point the visitation is interrupted and is not "resumed till 27th Nov., 1609, when Dr. Gager resumes it as "Commissary of Bishop Andrewes. Some of the reports in this "volume may instructively be compared with the comperta of half "a century earlier, and indicate the change of feeling and habits "that had come upon the villagers. Thus it appears that the old "strictness in observance of festivals and saints' days was disap-"pearing, though the attempt was still made to enforce the "antiquated customs. At Baburgh Ralph Shirte, gentleman, is "presented for fetching home a chaldron of coals on St. Luke's "day; at Barrington, Edward Prior is reported for carting on "Michaelmas day; at Duxford, John Willows for doing the like on "the feast of St. Simon and St. Jude, and the same offences are "presented again and again elsewhere as worthy of censure.

"The presentments for sleeping in Church are frequent, and "the complaints of brawling and actually fighting during divine "service are not rare. At Balsham two men are "named upon a "common fame to be of the Family of Love." At Cottenham, "Richard Coverley taketh upon him to be a cunning man, being "neither Physician nor Chirurgeon . . . . . to him divers "do resort as to a cunning man or wizard. At Dallingham there "appear to have been great disturbances in consequence of the "Churchwardens having apportioned the seats in the Church "according to their own notion of what was fitting. At St. Edward's, "Cambridge, Robert Throckmorton, gent., is presented 'for that "contrary to the canons he doth leave his parish Church of St. "Edward's to which his house doth belong, and doth go to Benet "Church to hear divine service.' At Over, Ezra Purkiss, the school "master, 'not being in any orders at all,' had for some time been "conducting the service in the Church, preaching twice on Sundays, "burying the dead and churching women, &c., and to all appear-"ances might have gone on posing as a clergyman but that 'in "reading the collects he did in one of them leave out this word "Bishop and instead thereof did read this word pastor or pastors.' "At Waterbeach Henry Greeley, the parish clerk, had been acting "nearly in the same way in the absence of the Vicar, who appears "to have connived at the proceedings. Complaints against the "clergy are very seldom made, though it would be difficult to say "what misconduct was not thought sufficient to form the subject of "presentment at these visitations." [Hist. MSS. Com. Report.]

C 4 APPEALS.

A large Bundle of Papers relating to the Dean's Appeal against the Chapter with regard to the appointment of Steward of the Dean and Chapter's Courts; with the evidences adduced on both sides, &c., 1785–6.

Amongst these is the following letter to Dean Gooch, containing a curiously circumstantial account, by the Rev. Dearing Jones, of Navenby, Lincolnshire, of his election as Auditor, about 1750.

"Navenby, 13 Aug. 1785.

"My good and much Honour'd Friend,

"Your favour did not find me till this morning, being missent, "(as they write upon it,) to Boston.

"You will please to recolect it is near 35 years since the event "you mention took place; my memory therefore may be a little "treacherous, and if I digress into minutiæ, or even fabulæ aniles, "as you desire all particulars, you'll laugh at the old man.

"When the Auditor's place became vacant, I waited upon Dean "Allix and those of the Prebendaries with whom I thought I could "safely take that liberty. I met with much civility from all, but "none promised me except Mr. Butts and my Father; the Dean, "who was the best friend I ever had in my life, told me most "freely, that his regard for and connexions with Mr. Watkins were

"such that he could by no means refuse him his support. In this "state matters rested till the meeting of the Body in November, "and the number were five,—the Dean, Mr. Harvey, Dr. Green, "Dr. Price, and my Father. The morning they were to meet upon "Business, my Father told me the vacancy had been mentioned "the evening before, and he found the Dean was against me, that "nothing was said in favour of me by anyone, and that Mr. Butts "was not come; he therefore advised me to desist proceeding any "farther. I accordingly went to the Deanery to signify that to the "Dean as my design, and in the little Court I met Mr. Harvey, who "asked my Business. I told him. He said he insisted I should "not desist, that his intention was all along to serve me, that Mr. "Butts as he promised would no doubt come, and he believed I "had other friends; if not I should at all events proceed: and that "the choice would be in the after-noon. Upon this encouragement "I returned and told my Father, who acquiesced. However I was "still uneasy, and waited upon the Dean and told him how things "stood, and moreover rather than offend him by persisting I would "resign all pretentions. He very friendly and politely beg'd I "would not have a moment's care about him; he should not be "the least displeased; not that he thought that I had any chance, "as he was persuaded that Mr. Butts would not come. In this "situation I waited till Dinner (—in those good Days we Dined at "one o'clock—) No Butts! I then in my own mind gave up all "for lost, and as I was going to the Deanery by invitation to Dine, "upon the Dean's walk I met Dr. Price, who very good naturedly "ask'd me how I went on. I told him I did not go on at all, that "all was over with me; my Friend Mr. Butts was not come. He "said, 'why don't you take your Horse and go to him? I know he "is at Snailwell.' I replied, 'It is too late; the election was to be "in the afternoon.' He laugh'd, and said, 'I shall voat against "you, but get away directly. I'll take care the Election shall be "put off till tomorrow morning.' I went immediately and found "Mr. Butts with a house full of company; he seem'd much sur-"prised, but very pleased to see me, and affected totally to have "forgot the Chapter time. I told him it was not then too late to "serve me, and I hoped he would, as the Election was not to be "till the next morning. He assured me he would, and came to "Ely accordingly. What follows I had from my Father. That the "Dean, Dr. Green, and Dr. Price voted for Mr. Watkins; Mr. "Harvey, Mr. Butts [? and my Father for me]. The choice then "rested upon the Dean's casting vote, who very kindly said that I "had behaved through the whole business, with such respect to "him and modest propriety, that he could not take the advantage

"of the casting vote; upon which Dr. Green immediately said, "then he would go over and vote for me, which he accordingly "did, and I was appointed your unworthy Auditor.

"I write this rather in hast to save the Post. I imagine you "may have heard I've lost my eldest daughter since I had the "pleasure of seeing you, and am in great fears for my son. My "best wishes wait upon Miss Gooch, and with every difference and "respect I remain Dear S^r^.

Y^r^ most obed^t^. and obliged hble Servt.

NOTE AS TO ROLLS OF MANOR OF CHATTERIS.—On the fly-leaf of an Act for Inclosing Lands in the Parish of Chatteris, 1809, the following memorandum is written :—A claim was made for the See under this Act for an Allotment, as the Bishop was

1. Lord of the Hundred of Wichford.
2. Lord Paramount of the Manors of { Chateriz Ramsay. Chateriz Nuns. Benet College. } all of which did suit and service at his Palace Court and Hundred Court.
3. As Lord of the Manor of Ely Barton.

In Bishop Wren's Account of the Muniments of the See many Ancient Rolls or Entries are stated which might tend to establish the two first of these claims; but upon examination of the Muniment Rooms all the Rolls, &c., containing such entries appeared to be lost, except one Roll of the Court Leet of Chateriz of ye 8th Rich. 2d.

All claim in respect of Ely Barton was considered to be satisfied by the Allotment made to Bishop Wren by the Commissioners under the Act of 15 Car. 2. T. DAMPIER.

Oct. 10th, 1810.

D 1 BISHOP YORKE'S ACCOUNTS.

20 bundles of Tradesmen's Bills and Receipts of all kinds:—

1768–1780	1789–91	1796–7	1803–4	1803–1807

The first bundle includes many receipts of the Bishop's when he was Dean of Lincoln, Bishop of Gloucester, and Bishop of St. David's; also some accounts of the Bishop of Peterborough.

A solicitor's bill in 1778 has an item for conducting a treaty with Messrs. Wray and Evans for the renewal of the Lease of Ashborne and Wirksworth.

There are also several bills and estimates for alterations in the Deanery at Lincoln by John Hayward and Thomas Lumby in 1778; especially an octangular bay window, and for walling up a window on the north side of the drawing-room, and one on the north side of the dining-room.

In 1779 the Bishop paid £2 12s. 6d. "for a grizzle peruke"; and Francis Winter's bill "for dressing the Honorable and Right Reverend the Lord Bp. of Ely's Perukes from March 10th to July 6th 1790, 251 at 2d each Peruke," was £2 1s. 10d.

D 2, 3, 4 CONSISTORY COURT BOOKS.

Registrum primum causarum Consistorii Eliensis de tempore domini Thome de Arundell Episcopi Eliensis. 1378–1381.

Mr. Cole says about this volume:—

"Registrum Consistoriale Eliense. The following curious book was lent to me Oct. 27, 1768, by the Rev. Mr. Sam. Peck, Fellow of Trinity College in Cambridge, Vicar of Trumpington and late Deputy Chancellor of the Diocese of Ely under Dr. Wharton Peck, who resides wholly at Norwich. Mr. Peck bought it at a grocer's in Cambridge for waste paper at the pound weight together with 40 or 50 other books all belonging to the Registrary of Ely which were so sold by Mr. Day the Town Clerk of Cambridge, executor to the late Mr. Higgins, who shot himself about 2 years ago, and was Deputy Registrar to Chas. Green Esqr. of Hemingford. It is a very large 4°, containing 162 double pages, wrote in a small neat hand on vellum by one Foxton."

The book commences:—"Acta coram nobis Roberto Roos rectore ecclesie parochialis de Tatershale Linc' dioc' legum doctore venerabilis in Xpo patris et dñi dñi Thome de Arundell dei gratia Electi Elien' et confirmati Offic' et commissario ad infrascripta sufficienter deputato in domo capitulari Monasterii Elien'," &c.

Pinned to the cover is the following:—"Mem. Tuesday Feb. 24, 1740. Mr. Woodward perused this Book, on acc^t of the Bp. of London &c. Nothing worth searching for in this book in the opinion of S. Peck."

Mr. Cole appears to have been of a different opinion, and to have made copious extracts from the book.

"As might be expected the contents of the volume for the most "part deal with matters of routine; occasionally, however, docu-"ments of great interest occur, and notably so among the letters "which refer to the elections of Proctors to serve in the ecclesias-"tical assemblies, and the frequent correspondence concerning the "Diocesan Synods held twice a year in the Diocese. So little is "known of the authority, influence, or procedure in these meetings "that any fresh information that may be afforded concerning them "would be a gain." (Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.)

BAILIFFS' ROLLS, RENTALS AND ACCOUNTS.*

* "Hardly less numerous than the Court Rolls are the Bailiffs' accounts of the Episcopal "Estates from the beginning of the 14th century downwards. Among these, as falling under the "same class, may be included the Rent Rolls, one or two manorial extents, balance sheets of "the surveyors of the great dykes and drains and other stray papers more or less connected with "the finances and revenues of the Bishop. One roll of the custos fossatorum for the 1st year of "Henry V. enters rather minutely into details regarding the system of drainage then existing "and which had been in operation for centuries before. A Rent Roll of 4 H. IV. gives us what "may almost be called a Commercial Directory for the town of Wisbech for this year, and it "would be interesting to compare this with another and equally elaborate Halimote Roll of "the 7th H. VIII., which again furnishes us with a list of all the householders and their several "occupations just a century after the date of the earlier document. The Bailiffs' accounts, "however, would prove on examination to be the richest mine of information on almost all "matters that concern our social history and the habits of life of the people. Thus we may "note that the interchange of letters from time to time was much more frequent than we should "have expected to find. In the 20th year of Edward III. a busy correspondence was kept up "between the Bailiff of Wisbech and Edmund de Gonville, the first founder of Caius College. "Gonville was at this time Commissioner of Marshlands, in the Isle of Ely, but resided, as "appears from this account, at Rushworth, in Norfolk, where he had founded and endowed a "College of priests in 1342. The letters from Wisbech to Rushworth are always charged for "in terms of the day's labour for which the manorial tenants were liable, six opera for the "journey to and fro, three opera where no answer seems to have been returned. From another "account two years later we get the money equivalent for these charges by finding the writer's "day's work set down as standing for a halfpenny. In this latter account, too, we find that in "the Barton of Wisbech a practice prevailed of selling the feudal services "in gross" year by "year; and in this year 1348 (i.e., the year before the Black Death) the whole amount received "under this head was 8*l.* 11*s.* 2½*d.* Seventy-five years later (10 H. IV.) the sale of services in "the same manor brought in 10*l.* Illustrations of the severity of the plague in Cambridgeshire "are frequently to be met with. At Barton we learn that no less than 352 acres escheated to "the lord, and that 62 acres remained unlet, causa pestilentiæ. From the frequent mention of "boats and boat hire it would seem that the ordinary "sewers" through the fens were used "as canals and were the highways from place to place, the saturated fen land not being fur-"nished with roads along which much traffic could be carried on. The sea evidently came "much nearer to the town of Wisbech in the 14th century than it does now; the smaller cetacea "seem frequently to have been cast ashore in the shallows of the Wash; when canght they "were salted and packed in barrels to be consumed as food, and the capture of a grampus, "porpoise, or even "unius piscis vocati sele" was welcomed as cheerfully as the occasional "netting of a sturgeon. These Bailiffs' accounts are of great length, the rolls frequently "extend to six or seven feet, and are usually written on both sides of the vellum. The series is "so large that they could not but prove a very valuable apparatus for a student desiring to "pursue researches into the daily habits, means of livelihood, and devices for getting a "precarious sustenance out of the land in a district which, in these early times, must have been "very uninviting to any but such as had been born and bred on the soil they were attached "to." (Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.)

‡ This Roll, which is written in a fifteenth century hand, is headed "Iste rotulus docet de Redd' assiso domini E'pi Eliens' colligendo de liberis hominibus in villâ de Ely et factus fuit per manus Michaelis Payn clerici in anno Regni Regis Edwardi tercii a conquestu nono et pontificatus domini Hugonis Balsham E'pi Eliens' xxi."

Now, Hugh Balsham was Bishop from 1257 to 1286, so that Edward 3 is clearly an error. Some one has written Henry above Edward in a modern hand, but the true date would seem to be about 8 or 9 Ed. 1.

The Roll was found amongst the Assize Rolls, being endorsed in a modern hand "Assizes," probably because the word "Assiso" occurs in the heading

"Most of the houses and shops in Holborn and Fleet Street had gardens attached to them "but the Bishop's own garden appears to have been let about the beginning of the reign of "Richard II., and together with the vineyard and some pasture land adjoining brought in a "rent of 60*s.* a year, a considerable rent for a yearly tenant to pay at this time. It is well "known, as the late Mr. Riley pointed out eighteen years ago (Hist. MSS. 1st Report, App., "p. 89), that the notices we get of English Horticulture in the middle ages are not often to be "met with. I was therefore very glad to find among these Holborn rolls a stray gardener's "account for the last eight months of the Episcopate of Bp. John Barnet, i.e., from Michaelmas "1372 to 7 June 1373, when the Bp. died. At this time the Bishop's gardener was one Adam "Vynor, who calls himself 'Ortolanus d'ni Episcopi.' Among the receipts are to be found "amounts from the sale of onions, garlic, lekes, parseley, hyssop, savoury [Winter's Tale I.–IV.], "peas and beans? [de fabis et siliquis], and cabbages [olera].

"69*s.* 1½*d.* is charged for men and women digging in the vineyard 'ac etiam pro malis "herbis in curtilagio purgandis et extrahendis,' and a payment of 3*s.* 10*d.* is entered for tithes "paid to the Rector of St. Andrew's, Holborn, 'pro decima pasture magni gardini.'" (Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.)

‡ Some one has marked this "A° 1406" in an old hand, but the date seems to be as above This Roll contains a list of about 130 tenants.

1796. Mr. James Wyatt's Report on the State of Ely Cathedral, and Estimates for its Restoration.

The Report pays great attention to an ivy tree in the Deanery garden as the cause of much mischief. Also to the clock, for which he recommends dials to be placed in the west, north, and south sides of the West Tower, in the tier of windows immediately above the roof of the nave; and that for the five bells then in the tower one should be substituted which "might serve for the clock and every other purpose of the church either by tolling it or striking it with a hammer or clapper by a cord brought down within the present lumber room." . . . . "If the bell were placed lower the tower must be closed where an octagon opening ought to be left, and that would shut out from the view below a very beautiful part of the Saxon Tower, rich with columns and arches," &c. Mr. Wyatt also recommends the Organ Loft to be removed "down to the great legs of the Lanthorn," and thinks the lead of the roof would fetch about £3,000, and the roof itself might be repaired for £1,200 or £1,500.

E 1 PLEA ROLLS AND GAOL DELIVERY ROLLS.

These are the Rolls of the proceedings in the civil and criminal business at the Assizes for the Isle of Ely, which were held at Ely and Wisbech alternately.

The Plea Rolls include the proceedings in all actions tried at the Assizes, and generally the same classes of matters as are found in the Plea Rolls of the Courts at Westminster, as well as Fines or Final Concords on the transfer of land, and some other matters which occupy separate Rolls in the Westminster Courts.

The Gaol Delivery Rolls include the proceedings in the criminal business of the Assizes.

There are separate Calendars or Docket Books of some, but only a few of the Rolls. These will be found mentioned in their place.

The following account of the trial of a witch is taken at random from one of these Rolls—that of 1647 :—

"The Information of Gillion Salter of Stretham taken upon oth before Thos. Castell Esqr. the 30th day of May 1647.

"Whoe saith that abort 7 yeares since that hir daughter Marie Salter the elder and Marie Salter the yonger daughter to Tho. Salter weare much tormented and evell handled in there bodyes Marie Salter being taken lame and had great tormenting fittes and Marie the daughter of the said Marie was so grevusly handled that when hir fitt came upon hir this Informant had much adoe to hold the said Marie in hir armes shee being but an yeare and a quarter old and that in the extremitie of the said Marie's ffitt was so violent upon hir that the mouth of the said child would be drawen to the eare in such a fearefull manner that it did affright the beholders to see and this miserie the said Marie did lie in for the space of a quarter of a yeare and so died wch this Inform^t doth verilie beleave was the act of Dorothy Ellis.

"The Information of Alice Wade the wife of Wm. Wade of Stretham taken upon oth before Tho. Castell Esqr. the 30th of May 1647.

"Whoe saith that shee being in the shope of Mihill Malen having hir child in hir Armes there came into the sd. shope Dorethy Ellis for halpeniworth of salt the said Dorethy laying the hand upon the child's cheeke mumled certaine words to hir selfe and presently after the departure of the said Dorethy Ellis had on of her child's eye fell a running and when this Inform^{t} came home and about ten of the clocke in the night her child fell shreekinge out and would not sucke wth that this Inform^{t} rose and did light a candell and looke upon hir child and did fynd that the side that Dorethy Ellis toucht all swelld and on of her child eyes out wch act this Informan^{t} conceaveth was done by Dorethy Ellis.

hir marke."

"The examination of Dorithy Ellis taken before Tho. Castell Esqr. the 30th day of May 1647.

"Whoe saith that about thirtie yeares since shee being much troubled in her minde there appeared unto hir the Devell in the liknes of a great catt and speak unto this ex^{t} and demanded of hir hir blood wch she gave hime after which the spirit in the liknes of a catt suck upon the body of this ex^{t} and the first thing that this ex^{t} commanded her spirit to doe was to goe and be witch 4 of the cattell of Tho. Hitch all wh^{ch} cattell presently died and further this ex^{t} confesseth that she sent hir catt spirit to bewitch and take away the life of Marie the daughter of Tho. Salter of Stretham which spirit forthwith kild the child of the said Marie and also this ex^{t} confesseth she commanded hir spirit to lame the mother of the said child old Marie Salter which was done accordingly and that she commanded hir spirit to goe and be witch and lame John Gotobed because he cald this ex^{t} old witch and flung stones att this ex^{t} all wch command was performed by hir spirit and the said Gotobed lamed.

hir marke."

A certain Matthew Ellis, of Stretham, seemed also to be in trouble at the same Assizes, for being concerned in stealing corn from Wm. Townson, senr., yeoman.

At the same Assizes several other persons (Adam Sabie, of Haddenham, Tho. Pie, of Ely, &c.) were also charged with witchcraft, some of whom confessed various extraordinary things, but one, Robert Ellis, of Stretham (probably a relative of Dorothy) "saith that he would not confess hime selfe to be a witch though they puld hime a peeces wth wild horses.

Religious prosecutions too were frequent.

"Thos. Dawlling of Wisbech deposes that about the tyme whe Collonell John Lambert escaped out of the Tower of London h was in company wth John Neale the younger of Wisbech at th house of one Wm. ffisher when and where the said John Neale di use some invective and disgraceful words and speeches against th Minister and Clergy of this Relme of England affirming that er long the Annabaptistes would come and preach in our Pulpitte and that the nation were Annabaptistes, &c., and further th 'Chas. Stuart (meaning the now king's ma^{tie}) is a bastard and th seede of a bastard,' &c."

Bets appear to have been made on the King's chance of resto ation, for the same John Neale is accused by another witness having offered to lay wagers wth this inform^{t} and severall oth persons then present to give them greater sumes of money f lesser when Charles Stuart (as he then called him) sh^{d} be pr claimed King of England.

Upon the prosecution of a man for stealing lead and glass fro Ely Cathedral one witness says, "Upon his oth that Doctor F Stone, Wm Tanner, and Wm Gotobed sold this Inform^{t} as muc lead as he p^{d} eight pounds for wh. was the lead that was taken the Cath^{l} Ch. of Ely and wayed ten hunndred and thre quarters.'

At the Restoration too there are frequent prosecutions of t party out of power. Henry Ferrom Esq. appears to have been particularly active justice in committing disloyal persons. Franc Mussen of Wisbech cordwayner is informed against by a custom who was in his shop and happened to speake of the Kin Coronacōn and thereupon the said Mussen did speake these factio and unreverent words of His Matie to witt "If ever there were King crowned in England he sh^{d} be crowned with a paire Ram's hornes," &c.

* The Jail Deliveries and other Sessional Papers make up a huge aggregate of Records which have chiefly to do with the crime and litigation of the county of Cambridge down to recent times. In so large a mass of documents it would be very rash to hazard a guess at what may not be found, but I was surprised and disappointed to come upon no notice concerned with the doings or sufferings of the Recusant gentry and R. Catholic Priests who were confined in the castle of Wisbech during the latter half of Queen Elizabeth's reign. It is difficult to believe that a more careful search into this collection of muniments would fail to bring out some fresh light upon the very interesting subject of the treatment which the Recusants received and the severity of their long imprisonment. In the next century again, during the interregnum, it is noticeable that the sessions continued to be held with monotonous regularity, but very soon after the Restoration at the Sessions held in Ely 18 April 1661 we meet with indications that the reinstating of Bishop Wren into his bishopric and his return to his diocese was speedily followed by a vigorous attempt to revive the old church discipline, and the old strictness which had proved so disastrous twenty years before; and accordingly among the presentments of the Grand Jury, 15 men of Ely are presented "for not coming to the Parish Church," and another—Simon Goodman of March—"for suffering his son and other boys to play in his outhouse upon the Sabbath day and in divine service time." (Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.)

"A Formulary belonging to the Church of York, 15th century."

"It contains a large number of forms of citations, monitions, sentences, &c., among which the following deserve notice:—

i. A form of absolution for celebrating a clandestine marriage.
ii. A form of letter for removing a nun from one house to another.
iii. A letter from the Canons of St. John's Church, Beverley, authorising one of their members to beg through the East Riding for funds to complete the fabric of their Church.
iv. A commission of the Archbishop of York 'ad inquirendum de Lollardis et ad procedendum contra eos.'
v. A monition to parishioners to contribute towards the restoration of their parish Church.
vi. A form of letter of manumission by a Bishop with confirmation by the Cathedral Chapter.

The beginning of the volume has been somewhat injured by damp." (Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.)

Also—

"Case of the Will of Edmund Hey of Wendling, dioc. Norw., 1611."

Proceedings certified by a Notary.

A Book endorsed "Archdeacon's Visitation Book and other Tracts 1574 to 1624."

This is really a sort of Precedent or Commonplace Book in which original documents have apparently been bound up to save the trouble of copying them. One of the pages is in fact endorsed "Bookes and p^r^sedentes founde in Alson's (?) Box Julij 29, 1640."

These precedent books contain much that is curious, and from the practice just mentioned of binding up original documents in them, are a kind of general receptacle for many things one would scarcely expect to find in such a place. For instance, in a large leather-bound volume, now lettered A, at p. 256 is an original appointment of Francis Hobson alderman of Chichester, to be Captain of a Company of Foot—signed "Northumberland, His Majesty's Lieutenant for the County of Sussex."

There are two volumes endorsed "Dr. Legge's Commonplace Books," and on the pages following that just quoted from Book A are some lengthy proceedings dated 1587 (under a complaint by Mr. Everard Digbye against Dr. Whitacre Master of St. John's College Cambridge "concernynge his late deprivacion"), which commence with a commission from Jo. Cantuar: and W. Burghley "to o^r verie Loveinge ffriendes Doctor Legge. Vicechauncello^r of the Universitye of Camebridge, Doct^r Pearne and Dr Bell." At p. 118 are the Articles on a Metropolitical Visitation of the Cathedral by the Archbishop. To take another entry at random (p. 348) as to a lease of Haddenham:—"To my remembrauncs theis were the wordes that Mr Goldwell spake before my Lo. Chei Justice in the cause of Mr Archdeacon of Elye and Mr Arkinstal viz., 'I was wth Buyshop Coxe late Buyshop of Elye, in his Gallori at Elye, before the Parliam^t in the 13 of the Quenes Matie tha now is, And there the sayde Byshop did shew me this lease of M Arkenstalls so confirmed by the sayd bysshop under his seall a nowe it is.'

*G 1 BISHOPS' REGISTERS.

The following is Dr. Jessopp's Report on these Registers to the Hist. MSS. Commissioners:—

"The Episcopal Registers begin with that of Bp. Simon Montacute (1337–1345). The latest that I found was that of Bishop Yorke (1781–1808). The series is far from complete, and the registers of Bp. Simon Langham and Bp. John Burnet, which covered the years from 1362 to 1374, were already missing when Bishop Wren went through the whole collection shortly after his translation to Ely from Norwich in 1638.

"Unlike the Institution Books of the Diocese of Norwich, which contain very little but the names of the clergy presented to a benefice, and the date of their institution, the Registers of Ely, at least down to the middle of the 16th century, present us with a documentary history of the diocese during the episcopate of the successive occupants of the see. It seems to have been a tradition at Ely to make the Registers take the place of the old Chronicle. If the registers of the Priory of Ely were at once the letter books of the monastery and journals of the business transacted in the Chapter House, the Bishop's register was a similar record of all that was passing in the diocese. The valuable priory register so ably summarised by the late Mr. Horwood in the 6th Report of the Hist. MSS. Commission (pp. 289–300), will give the reader a very good idea of the importance of these episcopal registers, except only that in the one case we are dealing with the affairs of a single religious house, and in the other, with the administration of an important but compact diocese, with no great monastery to enter into serious disputes with the Bishop of the see and with the University of Cambridge not yet strong enough or rich enough to assert herself too loudly. Though the relations between the University and the Bishop were very close, and could not be otherwise, my impression is that the early registers will be found to contain fewer notices of Cambridge than might have been expected, and that what there are have already found their way into well-known sources of information. At the same time it must be confessed that this is only an impression.

* G is the Register Cupboard in the east wall.

"A minute examination of these registers would be a work of time, and a detailed report upon their contents would fill a volume. Whether such a report is called for as yet may be doubted.

"Meanwhile, it may be noted that the non-juring Fellow of St. John's, Thomas Baker, evidently had access to the episcopal archives at the beginning of the last century, and that the extracts he made are to be found in his MS. collections. These have been utilised by the late Mr. C. H. Cooper, of Cambridge, and by others who have made researches into the history of the University. On the whole, they must be confessed to be disappointing.

"It is characteristic of the Ely registers that the lists of ordinations at the end of the volumes contain fuller information than is usually afforded in such early catalogues, which as a rule give little more than the names of the ordained. Here, in all cases, the secular and regular clergy are kept distinct, and sometimes the age and antecedents of the candidates are added. An analysis of these lists would enable us not only to form an approximate estimate of the comparative strength of the parochial and monastic clergy, but to arrive at some conclusions regarding the number of the various religious orders in the diocese during the 14th and 15th centuries. The numbers admitted to holy orders in the early registers are very startling. The lists of ordinations for 22 years of Bishop Gray's episcopate (1454–1478) fill 34 closely written folio pages. In the century before this, i.e., in Bishop Simon de Montacute's time (1337–1345), ordinations were held much less frequently than in the time that followed; but on the 24th March, 1340, no less than 249 were ordained, viz., 67 acolytes, 56 sub-deacons, 57 deacons, and 59 priests. The contrast between this ordination and one held by Bishop Cox, 19 Oct., 1580, is worthy of notice; on this occasion there were only 23 candidates, of whom eight were rejected on examination. The generally received belief that during Queen Elizabeth's reign the ordination examination was a mere form, and that admission to the ministry of the Church of England was easily to be obtained by very incompetent persons, rceceives no support from this register as far as the diocese of Ely is concerned.

"The great power and influence of the Mendicant orders again, even during the latter half of the 14th century, may be inferred from such significant entries as that in Bp. Arundel's register, where we find that on the 7th Feb. 1375 ten Franciscans, five Augustinians, and seven Carmelite friars, after admission to the priesthood, were licensed to preach throughout the diocese. All these licensed preachers appear to have belonged to religious houses at Cambridge.

"The number of Papal Bulls, Royal letters, mandates from the Archbishop, snmmonses to attend ecclesiastical assemblies, circular notices issued by the Bishop and bearing upon the taxation of the clergy and other instruments of more or less importance, of which copies are to be found in these volumes, is very large. As in the register of Bp. Stafford of Exeter [edited by Rev. Rev. F. C. Hingeston Randolph, 8vo., 1886], the Wills not only of clergy but of laymen are numerous and sometimes of great interest. The same may be said of the Marriage licenses, and occasional suits for dissolution or confirmation of marriages on the ground of nullity pleaded or dispensed.

"The Licenses to beg throughout the diocese (usually styled Indulgences) for various objects are extremely curious. In one instance such an indulgence is granted for two years, to enable a poor man who had been stripped of his all by robbers, to recover his losses.

"The great activity in Church building and Church restoration in the 14th century is strikingly illustrated by the notices of no less than ten Churches having been dedicated in Cambridgeshire by Thomas de Lisle in the single year 1351–2.

"A mandate addressed by Bp. Thomas Arundel to the Chancellor and University of Cambridge, requiring them to pray for peace, the realm being threatened with invasion, dated Downham.

"A breve addressed to Bp. Fordham by Richard II., ordering that prayers be offered up for Richard, Earl of Arundel and the fleet under his command now upon the sea, 13 June 1388. (Walsingham, Hist. Angl. ii. 175.)

"In Bp. Gray's register (1454–1478) there is a long account of proceedings taken against Robert Spark, John Crudde, and John Baile, who had been found guilty of heretical pravity. The articles objected to are—

"1. Images not to be worshipped.
"2. Pilgrimages not to be made.
"3. Children not to be baptised.
"4. Laymen not called upon to fast if they be labouring men.
"5. Consecration of burial grounds unnecessary.
"6. At the sacrament of the altar no change in the elements.
"7. Transubstantiation a fiction of the priesthood.
"8. Confession to one of their sect profits more than confession to a priest.
"9. Mental prayer in the fields is better than the same in a Church.
"10. Consent between a man and woman alone makes matrimony. The marriage rite invented by the avarice of priests.
"11. Extreme unction useless.

"12. The Pope is antichrist and the priests are devils incarnate.
"13. Every man is the Church of God, because he is said to be 'the temple of God.'
"All abjure their heresies.

"With these proceedings it would be instructive to compare the report of a similar trial for heresy in 1539–1540 in the register of Bishop Goodrich. This long and minute report is concerned with the proceedings against William Wolsey and Robert Pygott of Wisbech, which resulted in the burning of the two men at Ely on the 16th Oct. 1555. Foxe (Acts and Monuments, vol. vii. 404) gives a very characteristic account of this business, but he cannot evidently have seen this report of the trial, and writes from hearsay evidence only.

"Another entry in Bp. West's register (1515–1534) bearing on the same subject, shows that Thomas Bilney, who was burnt at Norwich, 19 Aug. 1531, had been proceeded against for heresy much earlier than has hitherto been supposed. 'Licentia M^ro^ Th. Bilney in iure Canon: Baccal ad predicandum populo. Sed revocatur quia super hereticam pravitatem convictus est 1523.'

"From such a large field as these registers cover it would be easy to make a collection of curiosities which should be of service to the historian. Thus the maintenance of bridges in the middle ages was assumed to be in some way connected with the offices of religion. In Bishop Grey's register (1454–1479) we find an illustration of this in a mandate from the Bishop to the Bailiff of Brandon requiring him, whereas Thomas Passhelaw, lately the occupant of Hermitagium nostrum super pontem de Brandon, was dead, to admit John Herryman to be hermit there for his life 'si bene se gesserit,' the said hermit to keep the buildings of the hermitage in due repair, i.e., out of the offerings received from those who should cross the bridge.

"The attitude of Archbp. Bourchier towards Bp. Pecock of Chichester is well known and that he was translated from Ely to the primacy in 1454. On the 21st March 1457 the Archbp. issues a mandate to Bp. Gray his successor in the see of Ely calling upon him 'ad inquirendum de libris domini Reginaldi Pecock Epi. Chich.' whether written in Latin or English.

"ii. 3 Jan. 1465–6.—A licence addressed to Thomas Trumpington 'Sacræ Pag: Prof: Præsidenti religionis Minorissarum monasterii de Denny,' authorising him to celebrate matrimony in the Convent Church between William Ketterich, junior, and Marion (Marionam) Hall, domestic servants in the monastery: the banns to be put up in the parish church of Waterbeach. Denny was a nunnery of the order of St. Clare.

"iii. Certain injunctions and reformed statutes determined on in the course of a visitation of the Priory of Ely, May 1466. It would appear that the house required some reformation and received it. The report and the injunctions fill five folio pages, and are of great interest.

"iv. In the register of Bishop John of Fordham (1388–1426) there is a long mandate of Archbp. Courtenay, 'Contra Choppechurches,' dated 5 March 1391. They appear to have been the clerical agents of the 14th century, who drove a brisk trade by negotiating exchanges of benefices. The Primate denounces them as 'Simonis consortes in crimine Choppechurches vulgariter appellati,' and their head-quarters were at London 'pro majore parte ut dicitur.'

"v. In Bishop Arundel's register (1374–1388), (fol. 33), is a very strong letter addressed by the Bishop to his clergy warning them against receiving or harbouring certain "pseudo maligne mentis homines infelices" outwardly in sheep's clothing but inwardly ravening wolves. "Adeo obfuscati quod quidam eorum Archiepiscopos alii vero Episcopos se falso et mendaciter pretendentes" who had been itinerating in the diocese of Ely and elsewhere, obtaining money from the clergy and confirming children at the Churches. Such rogues were by no means to be received 'etiamsi episcopi in veritate existant.'

"vi. In this same register (fol. 39*b*) there is an entry of unusual interest setting forth that Isabella, Countess of Suffolk, on the 21st March 1381[2] in the presence of Thomas Bishop of Ely, 'missam tunc ibidem solempniter celebrantis,' and of Henry [Despencer], Bp. of Norwich, assisting, made a solemn vow of chastity before the High Altar of the Priory Church of Campsey, Suffolk. The form of the vow is given at length. Jeo Isabelle iadys la femme William de Ufforde Count de Suffl. vowe a dieu et a nre dame seynte Marie et a toux seyntz en presence de tres reverentez Piers au dieu Evesqz de Ely et de Norwigt que ieo doi estre chast dors en auaunt ma vie duraunte. The Bp. of Ely by authority of the Bp. of Norwich received the vow and invested the lady with a ring and 'Mantellam sive clamidem' in the presence of an immense assembly. Among the witnesses at the ceremony were the Countess's brother, Thomas Earl of Warwick, one of the Lords Appellant in 1387, and her two brothers-in-law, John, 3rd Lord Willoughby de Eresby, and Robert, 3rd Lord Scales, 'ac aliis militibus et armigeris et aliis multitudine copiosa.' This remarkable ceremony has escaped the notice of historians so far as I am aware. The sudden death of William Ufford, Earl of Suffolk [Walsingham, ii. 48], has been assigned by Dugdale to the 15th Dec. 1381 [Baron. ii. 49]. His widow therefore took the veil just three months after her husband's death."

Bishop Wren's MS.

"A closely written folio in rough calf, arranged in double columns, in the handwriting of Bishop Wren. This volume possesses a peculiar and almost pathetic interest. The first 113 pages are taken up with extracts from the registers of the See of Norwich, of which Dr. Wren was Bp. for little more than 2 years. During this short period he seems to have worked with extraordinary industry at the records to which he had succeeded, going through them page by page and noting everything that seemed to him worthy of remark. At the bottom of p. 113 he has added the following note :—

> Quicquid in libro hoc chartaceo infra conscriptum est, usque ad secundam hanc columnam Paginæ 113, per me ipsum collectum fuisse ex Archivis Norwicensibus profiteor, meâque manu descriptum hinc ex eorundem perlectione et perscrutatione a me ipso factâ dum Ep^us^ Norwicensis eram, a 5 Decembris 1635, ad 24 April 1638.
> Ma : Eliensis.

"At p. 114 he begins his extracts from the Ely registers, which are headed "Ex Archivis Eliensibus." These continue uninterruptedly to fol. 360, at the bottom of which he writes :—

"There is a good Index to the Norwich extracts in Bp. Wren's own hand, but the Index to the Ely notes has been drawn up by another. Wren seems to have carefully noticed the occurrence of any names of Suffragan Bishops acting in either diocese as officials for the Bishops of the see, and the names of more than one are given which do not occur in Wharton's list.

"Reading between the lines of Bishop Wren's declaration at the end of this volume, and bearing in mind that the writer was the object of a very acrimonious persecution at the hands of the Puritan faction, who spared no pains in getting up charges against him, it is less to be wondered at that the muniments of the diocese of Ely should be as defective as they are than that so many records of great value should have survived. The see was actually kept vacant for more than 18 years, from 1581 till 1599, and the removal of such MSS. as may have been stored in the Bishop's palace in Holborn to the new residence in Dover Street, which was built in 1772, is not likely to have been carried out without some serious loss." (Hist. MSS. Comm. Report.)

This volume has been produced and read as evidence in a Chancery Suit—Pickering v. Bishop of Ely, 1843.

The Rev. J. H. Crosby, Librarian of Ely Cathedral, has gone carefully through this volume and compiled the following list of the MSS. which Bishop Wren mentions as the sources of his excerpts :—

Registra. Liber 1, Liber 2, Liber 3, Liber 4, Liber 5, Liber 6, Liber 7.

§ 2 MISCELLANEOUS REGISTERS.

Cambridgeshire Manors.

An old MS. volume (written about temp. Jac. 1) relating to the descents of Manors in Cambridgeshire, with an Index to the Manors at the end.

It appears to have formerly belonged to Mr. Peck. It is a most laborious and valuable compilation, and the Editor is not acquainted with any transcript of it. The following is a specimen of its contents :—

Abbington juxta Shingay soe called to distinguish from others of y^t name; it belonge aunciently to ye Abbingtons who were lordes of it.

Grindons to be the tenor of Bolon Abbingtons Mann^{r} but I will not dispute titles.

The leete is of Clare Honor and the Mann^{r} of Allens there payeth iijs. iiijd. per annum to the kinge for the Sheriffs aide 3 E. 6.

There is noe mencion of any mann^{r} called Grendon, but John sonne of Luce de Grendon conveied his landes to feoffees per nomen omnium terrarum suarum ibidem 38 E. 3 and John de Abbington held some 3 landes of Andrew de Grendon 22 E. 1.

Royston or Crux Rois is parte of Cambridgeshire and of Clare honor whoe aunciently had a 3 weekes courte there, the value in some recordes 3^{li} per annum wch rents doe now belonge to ye prince: a leete ther did belonge to Clare honor 3 H. 6. It is a m^{r}kett every Wednesday a dry towne good for ye utterance of cattell barly and mault: the priory was founded ther by &c. &c. . . . . There is 2 chappells aunciently, one called St. Johns and St. Jeames, the other St. Nicholas in Cambridgeshiere side both now decayed beinge the inheritance of Wm Allington Esqr. in right of Eliz. his wife the daughter of Argentyne, &c. . . . . It is a throughfaire towne to Yorke from London—ther is nothinge memorable but a small retyring howse of the kinges lately built for a private house for his huntinge.

Shengay aunciently called vill' de Shengaye 9 E. 2. A commandry of ye priory of St Johns of Jerusalem given by Sibell daughter of Roger Montgomery earl of Shrewsbury &c. &c. . . . . It maie well be called a Comandry havinge tennants and rents in Cambridge towne and in most townes of the countrey. It is held in capite, it hath many privileges belonging to it wch I will not sett downe my labore beinge therein cast as it were into ye sea and will neuer be requited. In auncient tyme they had there a carte called a fairy carte with wch they fetched those from Cambridge that were executed and buried them there—such blinde devotion they imputed to y^{t} place now there is a Chappell to it, but it is reputed in the parishe of Wendy.

A volume marked "Liber B," containing registers of Papal Bulls, Royal Grants, Official Appointments, Manumissions, Presentations to Benefices, &c., relating to the Church of Ely.

This is evidently the Book B, one of the MSS. Elien., mentioned in Bentham's Ely. (Preface and pp. 141 and 172.)

On the fly leaf is "This Register was given to me by T. M. G Esqre—it had been many years in the library of his late father

Richd Almack F.S.A.

"Purchased of H. H. Almack Esqr for £15, and presented to the See by Alwyne Ely. May 16, 1889."

It begins at fo. 9; and fo. 11 is missing, though the first pages, instead of the folios, have been re-numbered in a modern hand so that it appears at first sight to be complete. There is a modern index of persons and places at the end.

Ely and Bury MS.

A thin folio of 40 leaves of the 15th century, containing a collection of extracts from ancient charters and other documents in support of the case of the Bp. of Ely in a discussion which had arisen between him and the Abbot of St. Edmunds with regard to certain liberties and franchises which it appears the Abbot had invaded.

Denney Abbey MS.

A beautiful MS. volume, written on 32 pages of vellum, containing the proceedings on the appropriation of the Churches of Eltisley, co. Cambridge, and Bydenham, co. Bedford, temp. Elizabeth Throgmorton abbess, 1512.

The following letter shews how it comes to be here:—

My Lord, "Saturday.

I sent This Day, by The Beccles Stage Coach, The Manuscript, relating to Denny Abby: and directed it, to be left at Your House in May-Fair, or at Your L^dship's Palace in Ely. It is a very Beautiful MS.; is an Original; And was found, in the Archives of my Great-Grandfather Sr Robt Naunton, Master of the Court of Wards and Secretary of State to King James the First. It was taken, among the rest of his Goods, by the Rebels, in Cromwell's Time; and a Few Years ago, I found it, in a Farm House, of one, whose Ancestor, had been, in the Rebel Army.

If it gives Your Lordship, any Pleasure, it will give me more; And I beg your Lordship's Acceptance of it, As a Token of my Great Regard, for your Lordship; And to shew you,

How much I am,

Yr. Lordship's

Most obedient, and

Dutiful Servt

At the end of Register VIII. is this letter, addressed to the Rev. Dr. Walker, at Trinity College, in Cambridge :—

"Norwich, Apr. 4, 1750. Sir, I'm oblig'd to you for y^{rs} on Monday, but am much concern'd at ye acc^{t} you give of some of ye Surrogates. The evil of clandestine marriages has been long and loudly complained of, and imputed in a good measure, and indeed wth too much reason, to those intrusted with Licences. Some must be left in ye hands of particular Clergymen, in confidence of their integrity, and ye regard they ought to have for their own character in granting them : for there can't be too much care taken in an affair of so tender a nature, where ye peace and welfare of families is so much concerned. These great irregularities will one day be ye ruin of ye ecclesiastical jurisdiction in this particular branch.

"As to ye persons you mention, they appear to have been so guilty, that I can't think them at all proper to be any longer trusted ; and therefore beg you'll order Higgins to let them know this, and to require a return of ye Licences undispatch'd in their hands, and to let them have no more. I am sure both you and Mr. Greene will concur in any method that may put a stop to these scandalous practices. I did hope we should hear no more from St. Sepulchre's: if you do, please to let me know it.

"I am, S^{r}, your most humble Servt, W. Peck."

This book is divided into two parts. The first part from folio 1 to fol. 206 is properly intitled, "Liber de Inquisitionibus Maneriorum Episcopatus Elyensis;" containing a most accurate and minute account of all the manors belonging to the Bishopric of Ely, taken in the 21st year of the Consecration of Hugh Norwold Bishop of Ely, who was consecrated Bishop of that See 4 Id. Junii A.D. 1229 (14 Hen. 3), so that this General Survey, or Domesday Book was made in the year 1251.

The second part of the book, commencing fol. 209, is written in a different and much later character, and is properly a Chartulary containing a Register of the Charters and Grants of several Kings and others to the Church of Ely, Final Concords, Proceedings at Law, &c.

At fol. 228 b, col. 2, is an account of the Knights' Fees held under the Bishop of Ely. Fol. 229 b, col. 2, contains a valuation of the Rectories, Vicarages, &c., in the Diocese of Ely. NOTES ON THE BISHOP'S TRANSCRIPTS OF PARISH REGISTERS.

These, as will be seen from the foregoing Inventory, are tolerably complete from 1599 to 1813 for the old Diocese of Ely, that is to say, for the County of Cambridge with the exception of Isleham, which was formerly in the Diocese of Rochester, and Ashley-cum-Silverley, Burwell, Cheveley, Chippenham, Fordham, Kennet, Kirtling, Newmarket S. Mary, Snailwell, Soham, Wicken, and Wood Ditton, which were formerly in the Diocese of Norwich.* Also there are no Transcripts for Thorney, probably because of the former peculiar jurisdiction of the Abbey there.

Owing to the changes in the territorial constitution of the Diocese, it is often difficult for a searcher to ascertain where to look for the Wills, Transcripts, Terriers, and Institutions before 1837 for the districts now comprised in the Diocese; and the following table is therefore intended to give an approximate idea of their present places of deposit.

* The Deputy Registrar at Norwich informs me that the Transcripts for these Parishes (except during the Bishop of Norwich's Septennial Visitations, when they would be at Norwich) should be in the Registry of the Archdeacon of Sudbury at Bury St. Edmunds; but the Archdeacon's Registrar has no knowledge of them.

* Except the places, formerly in the Dioceses of Norwich and Rochester, specified above.

‡ There are also a few Wills at Lincoln relating to Beds. and Hunts. The earlier Wills entered in the Registers of the Bishops of Lincoln have been printed in abstract: Williamson, Lincoln, 8vo, 1888.

§ There are also some Transcripts for Beds. and Hunts. at Lincoln—principally about 1602–1610, but in some cases coming down to 1670. They are believed to be duplicates of those returned to the Archdeacons' Registries at Bedford and Huntingdon.

In making the following notes and extracts, the object kept in view has been to give an idea of the years for which the Transcripts are to be found, and (except of course in the towns) of the principal families to be found in each parish; as well as extracts relating to the families whose pedigrees are given in the Heralds' Visitations, and all entries which appeared to be in any way remarkable or to relate to persons unconnected with the parishes where the entries occur, and which might therefore otherwise be looked for in vain. Considerable care has also been taken to note the Clergy who sign or are otherwise mentioned in the Transcripts, so as to supply to some extent the place of the lost Institution Registers. The names given in italics and in brackets are those which appear constantly in the respective registers. It need scarcely be added that the examination of so many transcripts was necessarily a somewhat cursory one, but it has been made as exhaustive as the circumstances would allow. From 1599 to 1700 is the period as a rule covered by these notes.

The Extracts from the Transcripts are also, to some extent, annotated from the Marriage Licence Registers, &c., in order to show what a vast amount of genealogical information may be gathered from those sources.

NOTES ON THE OLD BISHOPS' REGISTERS.

A careful Abstract of these Registers, by the Rev. J. H. A bundle of letters, dated 1590, between the parties to an engagement for marriage, the lady's being originals and the gentleman's copies. A specimen of each is given below, together with one from a mutual friend, and another from the gentleman's legal adviser to the lady's, entering into explanations with regard to money matters. Probably the last document will account for these love letters being here at all, for the lawyer seems to have enclosed them as part of his case, and the whole bundle is formally docketted with the date of its receipt in 1590.

My Dearest Princesse. Suche a sayinge have I learned amongst the Sages, that the soule of Man resteth not in the bodye, where it breathes, but in the place where it loves; And now my sinister happ, or what should I terme it, hath wrought me that untimely experience, That I feele It nowe breath, where I cannot love, and I love where I am forbidden to breath and this which nature did unite, unkindnesse would unknitt, fayth hath her contrarye, and not without his enemye remayneth even God himselfe. My ample sorrowes (my sweetest Princesse) ensuinge this sharpe alteration, have prepared my hande to a most Tragicall style, my head, my harte, yea my heavy hearte, my minde, my invention and all the partes of my bodye (that I possesse) Disposed accordinglye (Anima ubi amat) the minde or soule where it loveth a preparative (except the bodye may participate) to an utter Dissolution: but I was ordeyned to dye, but yett I trust in him that gave me soule and bodye, and comforte my selfe on her that hath entertayned them both, that I shall not dye of this Maladye but be again conjoyned to my soule and cured, as I was created a perfect man. And thus (my sweete Princesse) I commend my selfe unto thee my soule and my love together, absence nowe, and opportunitye both, pleadeth against me before my heavye Judge, but I appeale by theis presentes to whome I have allready sacrificed my harte and all that I have besides, thincke of me (sweete Princesse) and the fyre (whilest I breath)shall burne, the incense encreased and continued.

[Postscript]. I have sent thee (my onely Deare) the greatest token of my love, the Ringe hanging at mine owne heare, whose posy is engraven in my harte.

† My Lord

The Inhabitants of this Isle having long endured much Sufferings from a corrupt Administration in this Island by the Infusion of Evil Council into the mind of the Prince of this Palatinate. rejoice not a little from knowing that a Man of your understanding and righteous Spirit is joined to the Cabinet Council of our Great Good Lord Doctor Mawson Bishop over this Isle.

Great (my Lord) by the providence of his God above the Grace of his King our King here below—Hereby pointed out unto us as an Object for our Homage, since it is the revealed Will of God that man shall give Honor unto whom Honor is due; the Light of Nature in us, was it not improved by a liberal Education, constrains us to honor Doctor Mawson, since our God and our King have inforced their precepts by their Example.

As Great so Good (my Lord) as it is Notorious our Worthy prelate has spent great Length of Days in the Exercise of arduous Study, of Trusts most important to the Honor of his King;

Bp. Keene evidently had a talent for details, though in the same bundle of letters which the following is taken from, he writes to a correspondent for a repetition of his letter, as he "fears he has thrown the letter into the fire with his covers":—

as the Good of his Country in the Exercise of cultivating in his own Breast other the Virtues which lead to the praise of Man here below—We presume—to the praise of him above of the Grace of his God also.

These Things premised as Truth makes it expedient They should. How strange?—yet not more strange than true. Much evil prevails over the Inhabitants of this Isle. From whence come they? Of his Lordship—Why no. Our Duty, our Knowledge forbid the Thought.

The Prince of this Isle, as our King, has no fault, yet not on the gross Principles of the Sons of France,

With them—their King is their God; with us—our King is but Man, subject to like Frailties with others of mankind; and as our King, so our prelate, governs his palatinate by a Council, and They alone are answerable for the Measures of Administration.

Having thus paved the way as of Duty bound to endeavour after restoring to an injured people their just rights. We must observe that the Duties to our Neighbour being discharged the next essential part of Mans Life is to reflect back on himself—Next to a Jealousy of Manself is an honest Zeal for Manself. Self Esteem grounded on Just and right is profitable—is—expedient for Man.

On first reflection we are a free born People, and the same divine and human Laws which forbid us Subjects to use Liberty for a Cloak to Licentiousness, do equally forbid our Countrymen in power and Authority to use that power for a Cloak to the Licentiousness of Tyranny and Oppression.

The Magistracy in this Christian Country are made for the People, and their Glory ought to result only from a faithful Conduct in Actions of great Extent.

Self Esteem grounded on Justice and right is profitable—is expedient for man.

(My Lord) We are a free born People; we this day are more. We are the Grand Jury of this Island—and as such are—the Guardians of the Lives and Liberties of our Country; and our Souls Jealousy to acquit faithfully such important Trust is inflamed to the uttermost from reflecting, that by our Constitution, We are—as willingly indeed we are too, under an Appeal to the Almighty God who cannot, who will not be mocked, to acquit this our office without respect unto persons.

From hence we are led to lay open—to remonstrate on Grievances too heavy to be born patiently, silently.

The Loss of our Liberty who are free born—False Imprisonments by the Suppression of one Assize of the two, which formerly were, and of the Subjects right, still ought to be.

This does alarm us, since no man of sense can presume on Integrity of Life as a Security at all Events against a Commitment to a Gaol; nothing more common than the Guiltiness of the Guilty being transferred, through the Craftiness of the Guilty, on the Head of the Innocent. We will look no farther than to the Incident which fell out in the parish of Littleport within these few years. Must we not add yet more? The truth must and shall be proclaimed, although it give offence wheresoever it may.

Barbarities under Imprisonment little inferior to the Inquisition abroad did our Countrymen of the Parish of Whittlesea experience within these few years past.

We therefore with Warmth as with Humility Demand a Gaol Delivery twice in the year.

For that End We urge on your Lordship when in Council assembled to press on others our prelates Council a speedy redress of those Grievances and a certain Assurance of the same to us the Grand Jury before Christmas next, and Silence beyond that Time We shall construe to be a Denial.

We are assured of your feeling for, as your knowledge of, the Constitution of this blessed Land.

We do neither doubt of your Principles, nor your Talents; but we still doubt of your Success.

Their Wills be done as unto Themselves alone. But lett those Council of our Prelate know, that We the Grand Jury are unanimously and stedfastly purposed in January next to fly for succour to the Guardians above all of the Common Wealth of England.

Sir,

My Lord Bishop of Ely begs you will be so good as to take the trouble to procure for Mr. Porson, a small Leather Portmanteau, a great Coat of Bath coating and a pair of Boots, and his Lordship begs they may be made big enough, to admit of a little increase in size, as they are not things in constant wear, and I think the Portmanteau shd. not be to small, as it will be a Lasting useful Thing for a Single Gentleman. His Lordship hath advanced Cash to Mr. Porson for his Journey himself: Mr. Porson will leave College one day next week.

1800. A long "Case" submitted by Messrs. Gotobed, Brown, and Brown, agents for Mr. Evans, Ely, for the opinion of Mr. Henry Gwillim, as to a maniac confined in Ely Gaol. It sets out that the Isle of Ely is a Royal Franchise, having a Gaol Delivery and a Gaol at Ely, the onus of repairing which latter lies as it shd. seem upon the Bp. of Ely as Lord of the Franchise as appears by a Report made in 1767 to his present Majesty by the then Attorney and Solicitor General upon a Question then agitated between the Bishop and the Inhabitants, and so forth. In 1798 one James Thompson was removed by Habeas Corpus from Newgate to this Gaol on a charge of Felony in stealing a Horse at Sutton in the Isle of Ely, the property of Mr. Joseph Vipan. He became insane, and Counsel is asked to advise on the question of the Bp's. liability to provide keepers &c. Mr. Gwillim's opinion was that the Inhabitants were liable and not the Bishop; but the difficulty appears to have been ultimately solved, for an endorsement states "Thompson proved no Maniac and was hanged, 1801."

The condition of the prisoners at this time does not seem to have been a very enviable one. A letter dated Wednesday, 4th June, 1800, begins "Mr. Bugge presents his most respectfull compliments to The Bishopp and informs his Lordship he has just now recd. ye Order for sending away the Prisoners for Transportation, and Seaford will make all possible dispatch in geting them away as far as Cambridge this afternoon and loose them in the Jail there till ye morning. The number of prisoners in this Jail of late, has been a great many; what ye Box makes is but trifling, perhaps 2s. or half a Crown a week, which amongst 2, 3, or 4 is a great relief, but when amongst so many is a mere trifle indeed," &c.

"Bounty Office, Dean's Yard, Westminster, April 28, 1798. At a Meeting of the Two Archbishops and Eleven Bishops held this day, the following Resolutions were passed unanimously:

Resolved that it would not conduce in any considerable Degree to the Defence and Safety of the Kingdom, and wd. interfere with the proper Duties of the Profession, if the Clergy were to accept Commissions in the Army, be inrolled in any Military Corps, or be trained to the use of Arms.

Resolved further, that in the Case of actual Invasion or dangerous Insurrection, it will be the duty of every Clergyman to give his Assistance in repelling both in any way that the Urgency of the Case may require. J. Cantuar."

A letter from the Archbishop of Canterbury to the Bp. of Ely on behalf of the French Refugee Clergy in 1793.

To the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Ely.

My Lord,

The very respectable Committee of Subscribers, who have benevolently undertaken to superintend the Distribution of the Money collected by voluntary Contribution for the Relief of the French Clergy, Refugees in the British Dominions, finding their Resources begin to fail, and that the Distress of the unhappy Objects of their Charity still continues, have humbly supplicated His Majesty for His Royal Permission to make Collections for their further Support; and I do, with great Pleasure, communicate to you His Majesty's most gracious Letter in Answer to their Petition.

You will therein see how much His Majesty approves this Charitable Work, by the Readiness with which he gives it His Royal Countenance and Protection; and also what Commands he hath laid upon us, that His Letter be made public; and that the Ministers in each Parish be required effectually to excite their Parishioners to a liberal Contribution. I have only to add, that I have no Doubt of your giving every Support and Encouragement in your Power to the Promotion of so pious and excellent a Work.

I am, My Lord,

Your affectionate Brother,

J. Cantuar.

Lambeth House, April 24, 1793.

George R.

Most Reverend Father in God, Our Right Trusty and Right Entirely Beloved Councillor, We greet you well.—Whereas the Committee of Subscribers for the Relief of the French Clergy, Refugees in our British Dominions, have by their Petition humbly represented to Us, that, on the dreadful Persecutions of the French Clergy, which took place in France in August and September last, many Thousands of them, Sufferers alone for Conscience Sake, were driven into Our Dominions without any Means of Livelihood or Support, and have been wholly maintained and supported for above Six Months by the voluntary Contributions of the Petitioners, which have amounted in the Whole to above Twenty-six thousand Pounds. But the Committee, finding their Resources begin to fail, and that the Distress of the said French Clergy still continues, humbly supplicate that We would be graciously pleased to permit them to make Collections for this Charitable Purpose, in the different Parishes of this Kingdom; and that the Ministers in each Parish may be enjoined to exhort their Parishioners to a liberal Contribution towards carrying on this Charitable Work, which the Committee trust will be acceptable in the Sight of that Being who is the common Father of Mankind—We, taking the Premises into Our Royal Consideration, and being ready to give the best Encouragement and Countenance to this Work of Christian Charity, are graciously pleased to condescend to their Request, and do hereby direct you, that these our Letters be communicated to the several Suffragan Bishops within your Province, expressly requiring them to take Care that Publication be made hereof, on such Sunday, and in such Places within their respective Dioceses, as the said Bishops shall appoint; and that, upon this Occasion, the Ministers in each Parish do effectually excite their Parishioners to a liberal Contribution, whose Benevolence towards carrying on the said Charitable Work shall be also collected the Week following at their respective Dwellings by the Churchwardens or Overseers of the Poor in each Parish; and the Ministers of the several Parishes are to cause the Sums so collected to be paid immediately to our trusty and well-beloved John Wilmot, Esquire, of Bedford-Row, London, Member of Parliament for Our City of Coventry, and Chairman of the said Committee of Subscribers for the Relief of the said French Clergy, Refugees in Our British Dominions, to be accounted for by him to the said Committee, and applied to the carrying on and promoting the above-mentioned Charitable Work. And so We bid you very heartily farewell. Given at our Court at Saint James's, the Seventeenth Day of April, 1793, in the Thirty-third Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command,

Henry Dundas.

To the Most Reverend Father in God, Our Right Trusty and Right Entirely Beloved Councillor, John, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England, and Metropolitan.

Ely-House, April 29, 1793.

Reverend Brother,

As directed by his Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, I communicate to you His Majesty's gracious Letter. It is His Majesty's Command that you solicit your Parishioners at Church and at their Houses for Contribution towards the Relief of the emigrant Clergy of France. Men who have nobly sacrificed every worldly Comfort for the Testimony of a good Conscience: and have fled to this generous Country for Protection. It is unnecessary for me to endeavour to excite your sedulous exertions in a Business of so interesting a description. Your natural Sensibility for such continued ond accumulated Affliction, in a Cause so honourable to the Individuals; and your acknowledged prompt Obedience to the Commands of a Sovereign so deservedly beloved; are sufficient securities for your active efforts to promote a liberal Collection.

With my earnest Prayers for Success in all your Christian Labours,

I remain, Reverend Brother,

Your faithful and Affectionate Diocesan,

James, Ely.

N.B.—Such Collections as are made in the several Parishes, may be paid into the Hands of the Rural-Deans of each District, and remitted by them, agreeably to His Majesty's Letter, to John Wilmot, Esq.
